

people's banquet

a free dinner
for human needs, not corporate greed.

November 14th, while Bush hosts a gala dinner for the G20 delegates inside the White House, we will hold a People's Banquet outside the White House in Lafayette Square: a free feast for those left hungry and out in the cold by US economic policies.

We're also planning a Really Really Free Market and a rally to show how mutual aid can overcome local neoliberalism.

To get more information, email globaljusticeaction@gmail.com

NOV
FRIDAY
14

4-5pm - Rally for Accessible Education!

DC Students for a Democratic Society will be at the Department of Education for the Student Power for Accessible Education Day of Demands, rallying outside: showing the world how student debt is connected to the credit crunch as well as delivering a letter to the Department of Education with representatives from DC area high schools and universities.

5-7pm - People's Banquet

While Bush hosts a gala dinner for the G20 delegates at the White House, we will hold a People's Banquet outside the White House in Lafayette Square: a feast for those left hungry and out in the cold by US economic policies. We're also planning a Really Really Free Market and a rally to show how mutual aid can overcome local neoliberalism.

Co-Sponsored by Global Justice Action, Casa de Maryland, the Washington Peace Center, Jobs with Justice, and Students for a Democratic Society

NOV
SATURDAY
15

10am-12pm Rally & Carnival

Meet at Murrow Park (the intersection of 18th St, H St, and Pennsylvania Ave NW, across from the World Bank)

Co-sponsored by Global Justice Action, the Institute for Policy Studies, Jobs with Justice, Students for a Democratic Society, and USAction

12-1pm - March

March to Luther Place for a People's Forum (details below)

1-2pm - Lunch

Luther Place, 1226 Vermont Ave NW

2pm-8:30pm, a People's Forum.

While the G20 holds their summit to try and resuscitate their dying ideas, join us to learn about how the financial crisis happened and how it effects your local community, discuss new ideas and alternatives to capitalism, and come together as a movement to organize.

Co-sponsored by Global Justice Action, the Bank Information Center, the Institute for Policy Studies, Jobs with Justice, Students for a Democratic Society, and USAction

NOV
SUNDAY
16

12-3pm - Inaugurate a New World

Join the DC Activist Coalition for a post-election strategy and planning meeting for the upcoming Inauguration Protests. Let's come together and figure out how to strategically pressure our new president. Visit washingtonpeacecenter.net for more info.

<http://globaljusticeaction.blogspot.com>